Q. I heard that Tracey Ullman is considering doing a weekly television sitcom for one of the three major networks. Is this truth or rumor? Stacey D.

A. Ms. Ullman has no plans to commit for a weekly series at this time and mulling over a possible role on the Broadway stage.

Q. When is Cher's new movie, "Mermaids," scheduled to open, and could you please tell me who is costarring in the flick with her? Jo Arnold Y.

A. "Mermaids," an Orion Pictures release, is scheduled to open nationally on December 14, 1990. The flick costars Bob Hoskins, Winona Ryder, feel-good movie actor Cher. The movie, set in the early 1960s, consist of age of three women; Mrs. Flax (played by Cher) is sexy, unconventional and wisecracks outspoken, not your everyday mom. Calista is one; Mrs. Flax loses interest in them as easily as she attracts them and, once an affair has ended or a familial problem arisen, she moves on by moving to another town, which she selects by polling a finger at an atlas map.

From 1965 to 1980, Cher enjoyed four number one hits ("I Got You Babe," "Dark Lady," "Half Breed," and "Gypsies, Tramps & Thieves"), 12 Top 10s, and 22 Top 40s, over more than 20 albums, and dozens of singles. Then she became a movie star. In 1987, she returned to a recording career, this time on Geffen Records. Her self-titled comeback album went gold, broke into the Top 40 (number 32), and produced two major hits: "I Found Someone" (number 16) and "We All Sleep Alone" (number 14). 1989's "Heart Of Stone" went double platinum (two million copies), nudged its way to number 10, spun-off gold single (the number three hit "If I Could Turn Back Time"), another Top 10 (the number eight "Just Like Jesse James") and the number 20 "Heart Of Stone", plus reprised another earlier-released gold single, the number six and Oscar-nominated "After All," a duet with Peter Cetera from the soundtrack to the film, "Chances Are".

Q. Is Frank Sinatra going back to the rigors of performing concerts? Mary G.

A. Sinatra kicks off a world concert tour schedule December 12, 1990 in his home state of New Jersey. With the passing of Sammy Davis Jr., Sinatra now will have Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme performing on the tour with him.

Q. How is Marilyn Quayle's health since she had her cancer surgery; and is that a possible reason that Dan Quayle might decide not to run in 1992? Marcia N.

A. Ms. Quayle is feeling just fine. And, no, that wouldn't be a credible reason for the V.P. to step out. If he does, it'll be because members of the party hierarchy may want a change for the election.

Q. On "Twin Peaks," I noticed one of the new characters is played by one of my favorite soap opera actors, Ian Buchanan, who used to play Duke Lavery on "General Hospital." I wonder if you can find out if he's ever coming back to the soap as Duke's twin brother or something like that since Duke was killed off on the soap. Also, how does he like being on "Twin Peaks?"

P.S. How can I write to "General Hospital" to get Ian back on the show? Marlene G.

A. Ian Buchanan, the Scottish-born actor and model, says being on "Twin Peaks" is giving him a chance to work with some of the most talented people in the business, and I'm having a wonderful time doing the show." David Lynch, one of "Twin Peaks" co-creators, discovered Buchanan when he directed him in a commercial for a men's cologne.

As for Ian's return to "GH," he says he has no plans to do so. He also says "But I can tell you that I have some brothers at home in Scotland, and we all look pretty much alike, so perhaps one of them might be persuaded to come to Hollywood to play the role."

Write "General Hospital" c/o ABC, 2330 Avenue of the Stars, Century City, Calif. 90067.

Q. Please settle this disagreement about Rita Hayworth's children. I say she had three daughters, one with Aly Khan and two with Orson Welles. My friend, who is my age and that makes us both old enough to remember Rita's many marriages, says she had only two daughters, one by Aly Khan and one by Welles. Who is right? Aggie W.

A. Your friend is right. There was some confusion a few years ago when a writer misinterpreted something the late Orson Welles said in an interview about his daughters — plural. He was referring to the one child he had with Rita and, the daughter he had with his last wife.

Q. I know you might think this is a weird question, but since I'm a short person (4'8") I'm always interested in reading about short people. My question is, who is taller, Danny DeVito or his wife, Rhea Perlman ("Cheers")? Thank you. Jackie C.

A. Rhea is a bit taller than her husband.

Soap Updates by Seli Groves

ALL MY CHILDREN: After Trevor learned she'd stolen money from him, he put Hayley on a bus to Chicago, but she got off before she reached home. Unable to get Travis to talk about the artificial insemination with Barbara, Erica did her own sleuthing and learned Barbara became pregnant the old-fashioned way after she and Travis had slept together. Erica then ran to Jack and declared her love for him. Tad returned home in time to find Jessica playing with a ticking package sent by Billy Clyde and destroyed it, only to learn it wasn't a bomb, only a clock. Dixie decided to use herself as bait to catch Billy Clyde. Wait To See: David becomes suspicious of Jessica's relationship with Travis.

LOVING: Alex and Riley, the airlines man, found a clue in the money-laundering operation in Isla Felipe. Dane took Eddie Grant's letters from Shasta's briefcase. Paul and Alex agreed to turn Stevie in. Stevie told A.Z. to tell Lonnie. Paul was furious when he learned Stevie was behind the pie shop bombings and assumed Amy had a fake case on Kate and Eggie. Carly arranged for Amy to see photos of her with Paul. Ralph put Shasta into a locked car with the motor running. Dane found her in time. Wait To See: Lonnie makes a desperate choice.

At the doctor's office, Megan was stunned to see Nikki "arrive." Wait To See: Max gets more unsettling news about Gabrielle's financial problems.

SANTA BARBARA: Mona told Michael she's searching for her missing illegitimate daughter. Rafe eavesdropped Quinn in the attic where they struggled until a shot rang out. Eden went in to find "Quinn" holding a gun on her and fired the gun she got from Kelly in self-defense and "Quinn" fell dead. Cruz suspected something was wrong when no one could find Quinn's gun afterward. Kelly confided to C.C. that she had married the wrong man. Robert new Kelly got out of her wheelchair to pour herself a drink. Wait To See: Cruz finds a clue that could help Eden, but it could also turn out to be a two-edged sword.

On the first morning after their wedding, Danny gave his bride a gold and diamond bracelet inscribed, "To Cricket with all my life — for the length of our days." Nina made a gruesome discovery. Mamie urged Drucilla not to give up on her reading and ballet lessons just because Olivia seemed to have the edge with Nathan. Wait To See: David's best made plans start unravelling.

Antiques and Collecting

by Ralph & Terry Kovel

A collection of tin noise makers won the most-interesting-collection contest in "Kovels' Page-a-day Collectibles Calendar" (Workman Publishing, $9.95, available in bookstores). Most of the pre-1980 noisemakers were made by American companies. Kirkhof of Newark, N.J., made Life of the Party brand; U.S. Metal Toy Manufacturing Company of New York made similar noisemakers; other brands are Bugle Toy and T. Cohn Inc.

We are looking for information about these companies and the lithographed party favors that they made. The noisemakers were probably made from the 1920s to the 1940s, and similar tin raisins are now being made in Taiwan and Hong Kong. The early noisemakers had pressed metal or wooden ball clappers and some even had wooden handles. Please write us in care of this newspaper if you know anything about the companies or their products.

Q. We found a metal lamp in my aunt's new house. The glass shade was marked with a paper label that says "Miller Lamps". The bent glass of the shade is painted with a leaf pattern that has worn off. Is the lamp old?

A. Edward Miller and Company of Meriden, Conn., made oil lamps in the 1890s. At the turn of the century, they started making electric lamps. They were often made with pierced metal and bent glass shades. The firm was still working in the 1920s.

Q. When were the first Buddy "L" trucks made?

A. The first Buddy "L" trucks were the number 200 Express body trucks made from 1921 to 1929.

TIP: One moth can lay 300 eggs. Each egg will hatch a larva that eats 15 times its body weight in wool. If you see a single flying moth, you probably have a family. Look under the rugs regularly for signs of damage, tunnels or tufts of wool. Have all your rugs cleaned. Remove any ruined padding. Spray baseboards and moldings for insects. Have all of your woolen clothes dry cleaned. Do all of this at the same time to be sure to find all of the larvae or eggs.
